

UNDERSTANDING THE REPORT

Helping Schools, Districts, and Community Organizations Understand Engagement Data

START WITH THE BIG PICTURE

The report shows what people do across the entire Bunifu website. Use it to notice patterns, ask questions, and decide what to review next. It does not show individual student progress.

HOW TO READ IT

1 NEW FIELD

Names the website activity being measured, such as a video play, dashboard view, or registration.

2 EVENT COUNT

How many times the activity happened during the selected time period.

3 PATTERNS

Compare activities. Higher and lower counts help you see where to ask questions.

4 CHANGE OVER TIME

Document the report date. Compare months or terms to see change over time.

USE THE DATA AT MULTIPLE LEVELS

NOSCA: Analyze data, set goals, choose solutions, measure results.

STUDENT + FAMILY

See which learning resources are used.
Ask where access or support may be needed.

PROGRAM + SCHOOL

Combine website patterns with participation, surveys, student work, and school data.

DISTRICT + COMMUNITY

Identify shared needs, align partners, and monitor systemwide access and readiness goals.

PRO TIP

One number does not tell the whole story. Review trends and combine this report with program and student outcome data before making decisions.
